WHAT OTHERS SAY

"Jill is terrific. She's smart and savvy and knows everyone in the league,"
John Morton, Offensive Coordinator NY Jets.

"The best part about my relationship with Jill is that she's not only my representative, she's become a big part of my family. Having someone you can trust, and someone who will have your back at all times is so important in the National Football League. With Jill I never had any doubt she was always doing what was best for me. She helped me transition from the NFL into the next phase of my life and that was extremely helpful," Stephen Spach retired NFL player and successful financial advisor.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

"Jill is a trusted advisor and confidant. She's extremely intelligent and has always represented her clients with the upmost care and professionalism," Sandy Barbour, Director of Athletics, Penn State

"I owe a lot to Jill. She's helped me through good times and bad. She's been there for my family and provides support to my mom, my wife and my kids in addition to me. We make a great team," Marlon Moore, Receiver, Browns, 49ers, Dolphins

"Jill is one of the smartest and most well-connected people working in the NFL. She has spent a career building relationships with GMs, coaches and scouts, and knows the game inside and out. I'm especially grateful to call her a friend," Laura Okmin, Fox Sports

"I've known Jill Baxter for close to 30 years and we've not only worked together but have become close friends. Jill's integrity and knowledge of the challenging issues of collegiate and professional sports are second to none," Kevin White, Director of Athletics Duke (Former AD at Notre Dame and Arizona State)

"I wouldn't have been able to make the jump from an assistant coach at South Dakota to the NFL without Jill. She's smart, tough and everyone in the NFL respects her," Marquice Williams, Assistant Coach, Los Angeles Chargers
